NEW STUDES COME IN THE NEW QUARTER

NEW MUSIC FEES

Several Enter Grades of Training School for Quarter

At three o'clock Wednesday afternoon 89 new students had filled out information cards at the college and 75 of this number had completed their enrollments. This is considered a very fine showing by the college authorities as it is a greater number than withdrew at the end of the fall session.

At the end of the first day and a half of enrollment between 450 and 500 college students had paid their fees and both old and new students will continue to come in all of this week and next Monday.

At the same time 20 new students had enrolled in the high school department of the Training school, according to Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, Professor F. E. Savage reported that the enrollment in the grades of the training school is still incomplete but that there had been a marked increase with 117 children already at work on Wednesday.

Instructors reported Wednesday that their classes were unusually full for the opening day of school following the Christmas holidays and that a fine spirit prevails among the students in spite of many difficulties.

President J. A. Hill and Dean R. P. Jarrett expressed themselves as well pleased with the prospects for the winter quarter. A fine quality of work was done during the fall and conditions are right for even better work during the winter months.

A new plan offering music to groups of students at a nominal fee of $5.00 per quarter has been worked out and classes are being started at the college this week. Under this new plan a group of six people will work together, meeting for two hours each week. The work will receive two hours of credit.

This type of work is offered in piano, with Miss Pauline Brigham as instructor, in voice, with Mr. Wallace R. Clark, and in violin with Mr. Herschel Coffee as instructor.

Under this plan many students who cannot afford individual instruction will be able to continue or begin their study of these instruments. Many of the best colleges and music schools of the United States are using this method.

West Texas Gas Co. Gives $100 to Chamber Work

A special donation of $100 to assist the Chamber of Commerce in its fight to retain W. T. as a standard 4-year college has been made by the West Texas Gas company. This donation is in addition to the regular monthly dues of the company. Other corporations and business firms in Canyon are being asked to make special donations to carry on the extra work which is necessary on the part of the Chamber of Commerce.

C. R. Burrow, chairman of the finance committee, states that every citizen and business firm in Canyon is urged to join the Chamber of Commerce as funds are needed at the present time to carry on the extra work of the organization since the college fight has been participated.

C. N. Harrison left yesterday morning for Dallas.

John Fry Handles A Goodly Fortune

More Than Million Dollars
Handled in
8 Years

If John Fry had all of the money that he has collected in the past eight years, his bank account today would amount to $1,364,293.78.

But John is sorry to state that most of the money is gone. Like most everyone else, John is a good distributor of money, therefore this nice fortune has successfully passed into other hands.

It so happens that as a result of John's generosity in getting rid of this money, many persons in Randall county and over the state of Texas have profited from this fortune. School teachers, highway employees, county officials, business firms, state employees, county jurors, and thousands of other people have received a portion of this money. The wheels of the state and county governments have been kept in motion as a result of this money.

Let it be recorded that this contribution to the public weal was no part of personal generosity on the part of the big hearted John, such as the case of Rockefeller and others who have distributed their millions to public work. This distribution was in line of public duty as Sheriff and Tax Collector during his eight years as a public official of Randall county.

During his term of office, Mr. Fry has been highly complimented for his splendid collection records, and the accuracy of his books and reports as made to the county and state officials.

The best year's business was in 1930, when Mr. Fry turned over $223,125.78 to the state and county.

Mr. Fry will make his final report January 20th, and says that he will then take a long rest.

Chamber Commerce to Furnish Field Seed for the Year

Arrangements have been made for 1933 for the distribution of certified seed to the farmers of Randall county at cost. The Chamber of Commerce will continue its practice of several years in distribution of this seed thru the office of the County Agent. 32,000 pounds of seed were distributed by W. H. Upchurch thru the use of Chamber of Commerce funds, which was double the amount ever distributed in the past.

Mr. Upchurch leaves today on a trip to purchase certified seed, and will have it ready for distribution for the farmers at planting time.

Annual Test Dairy Cows Set For First Feb. by Association

About 100 dairy cows will be tested in Randall county the first week in February for the members of the Randall County Dairyman's Association. The first meeting of the year was held Tuesday night at the court house when plans for the annual TB test were made. Tests will be made for non-members of the association who make application to the officers or county agent before February 1st. Officers in charge of the meeting Tuesday were: J. W. McCreery, president; J. P. Upchurch, vice president; L. T. Campbell, secretary-treasurer. Directors for the coming year were named as follows: E. Gidden, C. C. Stewart, H. R. Fulton, Albert Byars, R. O. Allison and L. J. Fulton.

Resolutions were adopted protesting the proposed change to be made in W. T.

THREE FIRES ONE NIGHT IS CITY'S RECORD

FIREMEN KEPT BUSY FRIDAY NIGHT.

Considerable Damage Is Covered
By Insurance—May Raise City Rates.

A record was established Friday night for the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department when it was called upon to extinguish three fires between 7:30 o'clock in the evening and 3:15 o'clock in the morning. These were the first fires in more than a month.

The first call was to the Shoe Hospital, near the College, where little damage was done by a fire quickly extinguished. Insurance covers the loss.

At 1:15 the department was called to the J. A. Boutwell home on 8th Avenue where a loss of more than $800 was done to the furniture and the home. Insurance covers the loss.

The third fire occurred at 3:15 o'clock in the morning at the home of W. D. Clark on 3rd Avenue. Insurance will cover a loss of about $500.

Lee Foster, Fire Marshal, states that the fire loss of 1932 may lose to the city the good fire rating and the credits which have been given on insurance for the past few years.

Safe Tapped Sunday Night at Office of Imperial Chevrolet

Entering through a window in the back part of the building, burglars robbed the safe of the Imperial Chevrolet Company Sunday night, getting between $5.00 and $8.00 in cash. Nothing else was taken, although papers from the safe were strewn on the floor. An electric drill from the work shop of the company was used to remove the combination and the bolt at the bottom of the door. The side door of the storage department through which the robbers escaped was left slightly ajar.

Finger print experts were called in, but did not make any statement concerning the clues found.

Bufs Get Good Start For 1933

One Game Lost on First Road Trip of the Season

The only snag hit by the Buffalo basketball team in the first road trip was encountered at Kansas City Monday night when the Southern Kansas Stage Lines defeated the Buffaloes 38-18. This was the team which eliminated the Buffs in the National Tournament last year in Kansas City. Fortenberry was smothered in this game by air-tight guarding, which was responsible for the defeat of the team.

The Buffs opened the trip at Weatherford, Okla., where Southwestern Teachers were defeated Friday night, 36 to 20.

Saturday night at Winfield, Kansas, the Kansas Southwestern Teachers were defeated 32-23. An extra period was necessary when the game ended 26—all.

Oklahoma City University was played last night, with the score of 41 to 23.

Phillips University will be played tonight before the Buffaloes return home.

The first home game will be with the House of David, a traveling amateur team from Chicago. These boys have the long hair and beard, but reports have it that these do not interfere in any way with their basketball. The bewhiskered boys will show in Canyon Jan. 11, and it is expected that a record crowd will turn out from all over the Panhandle to see this feature attraction.

The night following the House of David game, Southwestern (Okla.) Teachers will return their call on the Buffaloes. The Weatherford boys have always been popular with the Canyon and Panhandle fans. They never let up even when against the greatest odds, and fans may rest assured they will see two real ball games when the Buffs line up against the House of David team Jan. 11, and the Southwestern Bull Dogs, January 12.

The price for general admission will be 50 cents; reserved seats 55 cents.

EVELYN BEAUTY SHOP MOVES

Mrs. E. I. Boyce announces that she is moving her business, the Evelyn Beauty Shop, from the Elite Barber Shop on the east side of the square to the M-System building on the north side. She will occupy the office formerly used by Dr. D. M. Stewart.

Debating Team Is Seeking Cars For Out-of-Town Meets

Canyon citizens are called upon to furnish transportation to the high school debating teams of the high school for the out-of-town dates which have been made preparatory to the district meet.

George Terry is coach of the debating teams, and is giving his time attempting to develop a district championship team this year.

Mr. Terry believes that the school has the material this year for such a team if a sufficient number of practice debates may be held before the district meet. Three or four cars will be necessary to go to several towns.

Those citizens who will furnish transportation are asked to call Mr. Terry at the public schools, No. 23.

7 NAMED TO LEAD

Advisory Committee Is Named and Plan
Fight

A set up of a definite organization for the purpose of making a decided fight against any changes in the standing of W. T. was ordered yesterday afternoon when a number of citizens conferred at the court house for the best method of combatting the movement which has been proposed by the economy committee of the legislature. Clyde W. Warwick was chairman of the meeting and Judge S. B. Orton, was secretary.

A steering committee was named composed of W. A. Warren, chairman, Irby Carruth, Frank R. Phillips, Oscar Smith, R. A. Terrill, Wallace R. Clark, D. A. Shirley, and J. J. Walker. Serving in an advisory capacity will be Senator J. W. Reid, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, T. C. Thompson, C. R. Burrow, Judge S. B. Orton, Clyde W. Warwick, R. A. Bellah, N. E. McIntire, A. W. Sternberg, G. G. Foster, C. N. Harrison and R. E. Baird.

The steering committee met last night at the News office, formulating plans to reach towns of the Panhandle. Committees will make visits to all of the county seats, distributing information about the standing of W. T., its work, and urging that the friends of the institution write letters to their senators and representatives urging support of W. T.

In the meeting yesterday Dr. J. A. Hill called attention to many mistakements in the report of the economy body which was seeking to destroy the teachers colleges of the state. While the student body of W. T. has grown, the teaching force has been reduced 12 per cent and the total appropriation has been reduced 27 per cent. It is now urged that a total reduction of 25 per cent be made in appropriations.

According to Mr. Hill much criticism has been directed to the college on account of too small classes. On the other hand the experts have overlooked the many instances of classes which were too large. The cost of maintaining W. T. was far below the average found to exist in the teachers colleges of the United States. The report recommends that there is no need of teacher training institutions in Texas, which is contrary to all findings of the educational world.

The report makes the comment that W. T. is turning out few teachers, while the records show that 80 per cent of its graduates (Continued on last page)

Rainfall for 1932 Amounts to 21.22 Inches, or Normal

Rainfall for 1932 in the amount of 21.22 inches was the normal for Randall county. Bad distribution for the growing months, and high winds during the early spring were responsible for one of the poorest crop years the county has ever had. The spring winds, together with electrical storms, cut the wheat crop short while the light rainfall of July and August cut short the row crops.

The following was the rainfall by months:

June	7.23

THE OUTLOOK FOR 1933

There is something about the beginning of a new year which tends to revive waning hopes. Both literally and figuratively we close our books on the last day of the old year, take account of stock and make our plans for the coming twelve months. There was more reason for hailing the new year in the olden days when the calendar began with the vernal equinox, in late March, and the festival of the year's end was certain to be followed speedily by the revival of vegetation and the beginning afresh of the annual agricultural cycle. A great deal of the sentimental importance which we attach to New Year's Day is a survival from the pastoral civilizations of the past.

We are no better able than anyone else to predict what will happen in 1933. "Who knoweth what a day may bring forth?" We are certain of only one thing: that is that the New Year will be different from the old one. And we hope it will be a better year.

We have, at least, put behind us some of the things which made 1932 the hardest year in recent American history, for most folks, and we are closer to some of the things which promise better for the future. The election is over, for one thing; the European debt situation is at least beginning to be clarified. We seem to have about reached the end of the procession of bank failures. Farm products touched new all-time low prices in 1932 and we cannot imagine that they will not average higher in 1933.

It seems to us that the coming year will necessarily be one of thorough readjustment, not alone in matters of money and trade, but in people's outlook. It may have been necessary for us to go through three terrible years of depression to purge our minds of the fallacious notion that the road to universal prosperity and individual wealth is an easy one. If it turns out by the end of 1933 that everybody has learned that he is entitled only to what he can get by working for it, and to be content with that, the New Year just beginning will be the greatest success ever recorded on the calendar.

The people of Canyon have been greatly concerned about the publicity given by the Dallas News which is backing to the limit the recommendation of the efficiency committee in seeking to reduce W. T. to the rank of a junior college. The publicity is not good for W. T. and is very bad for all of the educational institutions of Texas. The Dallas News takes the position that teacher training institutions are unnecessary, that any one who has been to college is equipped to go out and teach in the public schools. If this is true, then the medical college, law college, and the severe engineering colleges should be abolished, as any college trained man or woman could go out, and after a little practice on the public become proficient. It might be hard on the patient, if doctors were trained that way, just as it would be hard on the children if the teachers were turned loose without any particular training. But this is an age of economy which must be practiced regardless of costs. According to the Dallas News argument the state can afford to train doctors and lawyers and engineers to go out and make a living for themselves, but it is all wrong to train a teacher, who goes back to the school room to teach the children who are to become the future citizens of Texas. It is absurd to think of building fine school buildings, equipping them in 1933 fashion, spend millions of dollars on these institutions, without first providing qualified teachers to direct the children. The Dallas News is all wrong in its position.

A great deal is being said about the evils of the fees system, and it is as bad as the reports make it; but let it be remembered that a constitutional amendment to abolish the fees system was defeated by the voters a few years ago through neglect of thousands of voters in Texas to go to the polls. The office holders usually are in favor of the fees system. They and their friends, and those who are hoping to run for office in the future exerted a quiet, powerful influence against the adoption of the amendment. The same thing will be true when the amendment is again submitted, which the coming session of the legislature will likely do.

All of the nations which have refused to pay their debts to America have saloons on every corner. Liquor has not brought riches to those nations. Yet the wets in America would have us believe that by returning liquor to this country the nation would soon be rolling in wealth and prosperity. And the tragedy is that so many people are simple enough to believe all of this rot.

France is too poor to pay their debts to America, but at the same time has money to loan to poor, broke Austria. United States sent four million young men to defend France from Germany and Austria. If the same situation again arises, this country will probably remember the present situation.

WORK, THE EVIDENCE

By Bruce Barton.

The whole problem of Jesus "miracle" is beyond our arguments at this distance. We either accept them or reject them according to the make-up of our minds. But if they are to be accepted at all, then surely the first one of changing water into wine ought not to be omitted. It often is omitted from the comments on his life, or at least passed over hastily. But to us who think first of his friendliness, it seems gloriously characteristic, setting the pattern for all the three years that were to follow. "I came that ye might have life," he exclaimed, "and have it more abundantly." So, at the very outset, he made use of his mighty power, not to point a solemn moral, not to relieve a sufferer's pain, but to keep a happy party from breaking up too soon, to save a hostess from embarrassment. . . . See, the ruler of the feast rises to propose a toast . . . a tall broad-shouldered man towers above the crowd . . . listen, hear his laugh!—That is Jesus.

. . . The Jewish prophets were stern-faced men; there are few if any gleams of humor in the Old Testament.

John the Baptist was the last of this majestic succession of thunderers. He forsook the cities as being wicked beyond any hope, and pitched his camp in a wilderness beside the banks of the Jordan. For clothes he wore the skins of animals; his food was locusts and wild honey. He indulged in long fasts and vigils, from which he emerged with flaming eyeballs to deliver his uncompromising challenge. "Repent," he cried, "repent while you still have time."

. . . Fresh from the carpenter shop came Jesus to stand and listen with the rest. To what degree was he influenced? Did he, too, believe that the world was almost at an end? There is some evidence to make us think so. He went away from John's camp and hid himself in the woods, and there for forty days and nights he fought the thing through. For a time his preaching bore a decided resemblance to John's. He, too, talked of Heaven and warned his hearers that time was short. But little by little the note of warning diminished; the appeal to righteousness as a happier, more satisfying way of living increased. God ceased to be the stern, unforgiving judge, and became the loving, friendly Father. He, himself, was less and less the prophet, more and more the companion. So much so, that John—imprisoned and depressed—began to be tortured by doubt.

John sent two of his disciples to watch and ask. And Jesus, knowing how wide was the difference between their attitude and his, refused to argue or defend. "Go and tell your master what you have seen and heard," he said. "The sick are healed, the blind receive their sight and the poor have the gospel preached to them. . . . It is true that I do not fast, nor forego the every-day pleasures of life. John did his work and it was fine; but I cannot work in his way. I must be myself . . . and these results which you have seen . . . these are my evidence."

Pioneer's Museum Carries Sightseers Back to Gold Rush Days of '49

TEN years ago a wealthy Californian, inspired by tales of the gold rush back in '49, decided to start collecting relics of that era. Today, his collection of paraphernalia of the period is perhaps the largest ever made. And streams of sightseers visit his museum to be spirited back briefly to those hell-roaring days when fortunes were made overnight and when men were either dead shots or dead hounds.

It was back in 1922 that W. Parker Lyon, retired former mayor of Fresno, Calif., conceived the idea. He started to gather relics from every source and house them under one roof near his home. Now, his Pony Express Museum is famous.

To visit his museum, containing relics obtained from every section of the state—all the way from Gough Eye Camp to Hangman's Gulch—is to read the stirring history of the days of '49 and those that followed.

At one end of the museum stands an old-time bar, with roulette wheels and other devices common in the days when gambling and drinking went hand in hand with hard labor. Lyon says he sawed out the side of a wooden building at Mariposa, Calif., to salvage the ancient mining-camp bar.

Much antiquated equipment used in the mining and handling of gold is in the museum. The jewel of Lyon's collection is a full-jeweled gold scale capable of weighing 1000 ounces of gold (approximately $18,000 worth) at one time. Packed for shipping, the scale weighed over half a ton.

On the walls of the museum are fittings from many a pioneer home and dance hall, as well as from saloons and gambling palaces. A hoop skirt of fancy silk hangs over a loom on which some pioneer woman wove blankets and homespun. One room is devoted to the display of Indian relics.

Pictures are everywhere. They include photographs, lithographs, and paintings of early-day scenes and portraits of many persons renowned in the days of gold. An arsenal contains any number of old shotguns and pistols, including a gun used by Black Bart, the post-highwayman of California.

Outside the museum are three old stage coaches, including Bill Cody's bullet-riddled six-horse coach, a prairie schooner, and a hand-drawn fire engine which was used in San Francisco in the '50s. The coaches, Lyon says, are most interesting to visitors of the museum, of whom there were nearly 25,000 last year.

In addition, Lyon's collection of pony express envelopes, indexed and cross-indexed with notes by the collector, is the most complete in existence. He also has collected the stamps of every one of the 499 express companies which handled mail in California before and after the days of the pony express, together with letters to and from persons who figured prominently in the history of the state.

To Look Your Very Best, Use Your Head

THE YOUTHFUL COIFFURE HAS A SLANTING PART AND SINGLE DEEP WAVE, WITH OLDER WOMEN USING BANGS

BY HARRIET

HATS and hair must agree on chic in the new year or you won't look your best.

If you are a young thing, of course you'll want your hair brushed right up off your forehead. Most of the new coiffures part the hair on the side that becomes you most, sloping it from the front slantwise to the front hairline.

Waves are in order, but the smart girl has only a single deep wave, also set slantwise, from the crown of the head to the temple, one on each side. That leaves the top of the head almost flat, with a crest rising at the crown and then all the ends are curled up from the head in real old-fashioned finger curls.

You can curl the entire back hair up this same way and it will look perfectly charming under hats. One hat particularly well suited to this coiffure is a brown matelasse crepe hat of new sailor fashion with banding in green and brown, striped grosgrain ribbon, with a perky bow on the side that tips over the ear. You wear this little brimmed chapeau way over on your right eye, the way the bow tilts, and lift it up to show your ringlets on the left side. It is particularly good if you wear some youthful type of collar, like the one shown.

If you are an older woman, the chances are that you may prefer a few cultivated bangs to break the severity of a straight-coiffure. A very good coiffure for an older woman parts the hair from almost the center on the right side, slanting it out to the side of the head. On the right side the hair is waved from a high forehead level in soft, deep waves around the whole head. Below this the hair is curled up softly to simulate regular finger curls. But they are left soft and not hard-looking, in the least. From the front of the forehead the hair is brushed over to the left side, swirling just a bit, and the entire back of the hair has its ends curled up softly. The front has a few bangs on the left side which are carefully curled up softly and on the right side the whole wave tips over onto the forehead, almost to the eye.

The tiny brimmed hat of brown matelasse crepe shown at left is excellently suited for use with a coiffure in which the hair ends are made up in a mass of old-fashioned finger curls. The ribbon is of green and brown striped grosgrain. A very good coiffure for older women is that shown at right, which features a slanting part, bangs on one side of the forehead and a low deep wave on the other.

This is an admirable coiffure if you have a yen for one of the new Cosack hats that give you that becoming tricorn effect, the point standing high in the air. Such a hat, very new right now and therefore one which women will like, is made of black draped wool that is soft and looks like very pliable sole felt. It is cut to point slantwise from its high peak right down over the right eye. And it is modified in the way it does not expose the entire left side of your hair.

Both of these hats are indicative of the new trend in hats. Young folks are liking them with jaunty brims, in gay colors, often. Older women are going in for the high hat modes which have not been popular for many days. They are not unlike the dignified hats of another day yet they have a certain modern jauntiness that the old hats lacked entirely.

But be sure, whatever type you are, that your hair is fixed to give your hat the best possible introduction to your friends. Hair is as important as hats right now.

Extension Classes of W. T. Are Now Being Organized

Four college extension classes completed their work just before or during the holiday season, and new classes are now under consideration in Amarillo, Memphis and Childress.

Dr. Albert Barnett has just completed a course in Education at Pampa with 27 members in the class. Professor C. H. Thurman has already begun the second quarter class there, with 24 members already enrolled for a study of Contemporary Movements in American Literature. Mrs. Sam Irwin is local secretary for this class.

Professor L. F. Sheffy has completed his work with a class in Amarillo, this class having been made up largely of advanced students in history. Their course was History of the Settlement of the Great Plains Region.

Dr. B. F. Fronabarger conducted a class in Shakespeare's Comedies, in Amarillo. This class will continue its work during the winter, Dr. Fronabarger meeting it for the first time today.

Professor C. W. Batchelder, who had a class with 34 members at Memphis finished the course by meeting the class during the holidays. It is likely that this class will continue its work in public speaking during the winter term. Mrs. Roy Guthrie, county superintendent of Hall County acts as local secretary of the class and has done much to insure its success. Mrs. Guthrie feels that extension is very valuable to the teachers of her county, helping them to keep up with current practices and helping them also to improve their college standing by using their spare time. She states that the school boards of her county are especially pleased with the teachers who take this type of work.

All of these classes are carried on without any expense to the taxpayers of the state, the work being financed by the members of the class.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves will meet with the Amarillo teachers on Saturday to organize other classes there.

At a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon, the decision was reached to send Mr. Wortham to Austin in order that accurate information regarding the College may be in the hands of the legislators at all times. False statements which may be circulated will be corrected through the work of Mr. Wortham.

During his absence, the office of the Chamber of Commerce will be maintained at regular hours by Mrs. Wortham, who will look after the details of the office.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce believe that the present college fight overshadows all other activities at the present time, and will devote all of the facilities to this work.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Philip Martin Believes That the Immense Italian Will Be the Winner and New Champion After That Sharkey-Carnera Bout in May

BY PHILIP MARTIN

PRIMO CARNERA! The Ambling Alp from Italy! Heavyweight Champion of the World!

Sometime after May, European fight fans and circus goers might see such a blatant sign adorning the highways and byways of the Old Country—for the man mountain from Signor Mussolini's land will probably be just what the poster says.

Chortle up your sleeve if you wish, sir and madam, but recent developments in the fistie world tend to indicate that "Fiddle Feet" will get a shot at Jack Sharkey's heavyweight crown sometime in the merry month of May, and, despite a million opinions to the contrary, the heavyweight title will add further to the grandeur that was Rome's.

The Sharkey-Carnera bout, while not yet a certainty, will more than likely come about as a counterblow of Madison Square Garden against Max Schmeling's manager, Joe Jacobs. The "Yussel" has signed his fighter to meet Max Baer, the Livermore, Calif., butcher boy, sometime in June.

In doing this, Jacobs committed his second slight against Carnera's retinue of managers, the first having come after Schmeling was not signed to meet the Italian after the German's victory over Willie Stripling in Cleveland.

So Carnera is matched with the "Garrulous Gob." And it is this writer's opinion that he'll take Sharkey. Reasons follow:

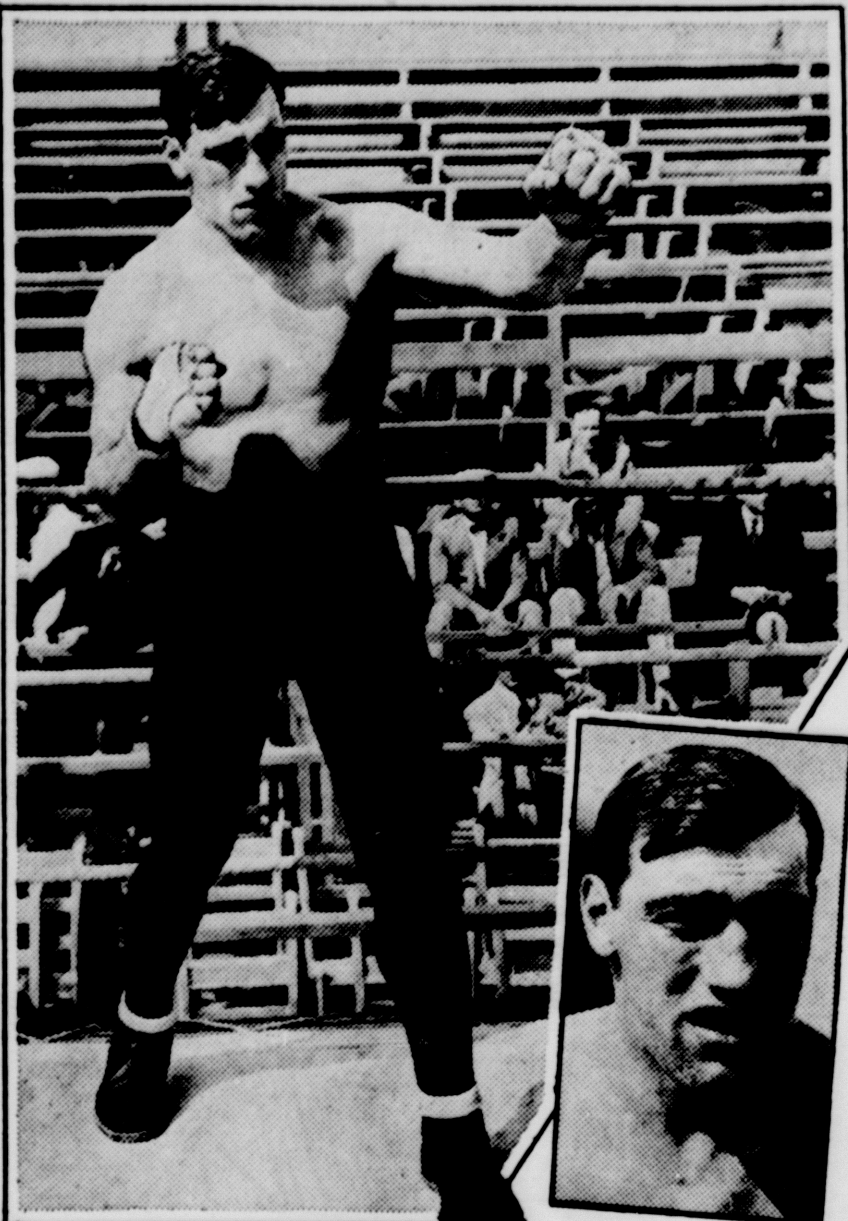

Sharkey is an older at the ring game and is past 30 years old. Carnera is four years younger.

The Gob is outweighed by some 60 or 70 pounds by the huge Italian, and is some six inches shorter.

While Sharkey has been resting on his laurels, Primo has been busy, staging as many as four fights a week, and keeping in the pink of condition while cramming a lot of ring craft into his large dome.

Surely, after that exhibition against Max Schmeling in 1932, Sharkey isn't going forward. He is on the downgrade, if anything. Carnera is a great improvement over his initial showing in this country three or four years ago. There seems to be something of a fighter in him, and the shuffle he used to do around the ring has acquired a little spring.

His timing of punches is considerably better, and his punches contain plenty of sock, as is witnessed in some of his recent fights in which he knocked out Big Boy Peterson and K. O. Christner, and decisioned Kingfish Levinsky.

When that man mountain, Primo Carnera, steps up against Jack Sharkey next May, Philip Martin figures the Star of Italy to take the decision and the world's championship, because of superior physique and condition. Primo is shown above in a characteristic fighting pose and, inset, in a closeup.

TRUE, Carnera has been up against a bunch of second-raters. But those second-raters have given him a lot of training in ring lore, and that's just what he needed to transform himself from a rough chunk of meat into a rather efficient fighting machine.

In October, 1931, Primo met Sharkey in a 15-rounder and lost. But he is a far better fighter now than he was a year ago and, by May, ought to be a far better fighter than he is now. His various managers have lined up a tour that includes a fight in nearly every town, village and hamlet except Nantyglo, Pa.

Looks like the winner of the Baer-Schmeling go will have to beat Carnera for the heavyweight championship of the world—but maybe I'm wrong.

Annual Rotary Ann Meeting Held Tuesday Night by Club

The fifth annual Rotary Ann luncheon was held Tuesday night by the Canyon Rotary Club. The program was in charge of Joe Hill, chairman of the Resolutions committee.

Dr. Marvin Sadoris was introduced as a new member of the club.

Guests of the Club were Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Condon of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Norris Ewing, Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Swindell, and Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Barfield, all of Amarillo.

Welcome to the Rotary Anns was extended by President Oscar Gano of the Club, with response by Mrs. W. A. Warren.

Senator J. W. Reid talked on the proposed changes for W. T., charging that the state is not fair to the people of Canyon and West Texas in seeking to make changes in the school. He discussed the need of teacher training if good schools are to be maintained in Texas.

Norris Ewing discussed the friendly relationship which had existed between Canyon and Amarillo, and the cordial relationship which should exist in the future.

Joe Hill closed the program by outlining the history of W. T., its worth to West Texas, and urged solidarity in this section to battle for maintaining the College at its present standards.

Boys and Girls Meet Bovina Fri. Lazbuddy Sat. Nite

After almost two weeks idleness, the Canyon High School cagers, resumed practice Monday afternoon.

Despite the fact that the Eagles were defeated by the powerful Friona Chiefs on Wednesday before the Christmas holidays, they are working all the harder to endeavor to capture the district cage honors.

Tomorrow the Eagle boys and girls squads will trek over to Bovina to engage the Bovina cagers in a double header. It is rumored that the Bovina feminine squad is one of the strongest in the Panhandle. The Canyon sextet boasts a wonderful record of no defeats this season, so this will undoubtedly be a hard and fast game.

Saturday night the local squads will return to their own court to entertain the Lazbuddy Longhorns in another double header.

This game Saturday night will be the Eagles' first appearance in conference competition in the local gymnasium.

The game will begin promptly at 7 o'clock. The admission charges will be 15c and 25c or your student activity ticket. Everyone is urged to come out and support the Eagles in their first conference game and give them a good start toward district honors.

MARY TANKERSLEY ENTERTAINS WITH NEW YEAR'S PARTY

The new courses that will be offered next semester are physical and commercial geography to the eighth and ninth grades, commercial law and civics to the tenth, and eleventh grades; solid geometry to the eleventh grade, and probably a course of agriculture will be offered to the ninth and tenth grades.

Sophomores Lead In Number Placed On Honor Roll

The honor roll has increased since the first six weeks. There were 21 honor students the first six weeks and 27 the second six weeks. The number of straight "A" cards has also increased. This is a sure sign that the students of Canyon High School are working hard for better grades.

The sophomore class deserves the credit for the four straight "A" cards. The girls who made them are Jewell Chambers, Dorothy Dickinson, Winnie Dee Hicks, and Marie Price.

Although the "A" students received a great deal of honor, the people making "B" or above in all subjects should get the honor that is due. The following made "B" or above in all subjects:

Seniors: Jean Burgess, Verline Furlow, Wilma Harris, Jennie Lee Noble, Kathryn Robinson, Lula Visage.

Juniors: Luara Fern Brian, Alton Brasuel, Fredda Charles Bills, Christine Cousins, Inez Drummond, Armor Lee Greenfield, Lorene Mickle, Gailen Porter, Nell Slayton.

Are You Keeping an Eye on Your Children?

How the children enjoy the "funnies" in the daily papers! It's great sport for them, following the antics of their favorite characters in the comics.

But why are they so likely to spread their papers out before them on the floor or in other places where they may not be able to see comfortably?

Well, it's because of the peculiarities of children. They're thinking of the pictures, not of their eyes. That's one of the many reasons why your home should be well lighted throughout. With good lighting everywhere, your children will not have to strain their eyes and perhaps become nearsighted.

Now is the time to go over your lighting conditions in preparation for the long winter evenings ahead.

“USE THE NEWSPAPER,” Says The Successful Merchant

READ THIS ENCOURAGING SALES ARGUMENT RECENTLY SENT BY THE ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT OF THE J. C. PENNY COMPANY TO ITS STORE MANAGERS:

“(1) Do you want to be certain of reader interest? Then use the newspapers. Many a circular receives only a casual glance, while the local newspaper with hundreds of general news items is read thoroughly from first to last.

“(2) Do you want representation in the same ‘shopping window’ as the other merchants of your town use? Then use the local newspaper. Women, the purchasing agents of the home, read newspaper advertising daily, whereas many a circular is tossed into the waste basket without a glance.

“(3) Do you want fast action? Then use the newspaper. The ad that you run today, if it contains real merchandise news, will bring immediate results tomorrow. You can receive and sell out a consignment of merchandise with newspaper advertising in less time than it takes to prepare a circular.

“(4) Do you want to be recognized as a factor of importance in your community—a real home-town store? If you do, use the newspaper—it undoubtedly is a strong factor in the building of good will and acceptance by the whole town as a good place to trade.”

Amarillo Will Have "Vanities" On January 21

The 1933 theatrical season in Amarillo and the Panhandle will be launched with a brilliant sell-down seen in these parts, when Earl Carroll's Vanities, an elaborate musical revue with 55 separate scenes, is presented for two performances at the Municipal Auditorium, Saturday, January 21.

Scores of pretty girls, comedians galore, songs, dances, brilliant settings and gorgeous costumes—these will make up the ninth edition of Carroll's famous show. The cast is headed by Al Traham, piano-playing master of ceremonies whose greatest claim to fame is a command performance before the King of England. Others in the company include Frank Mitchell, Jack Durant, Harry Stockwell, Betty Veronica, Yukona Cameron, Claire Currie, Lucile Page, Emily Von Loeson, Ray Sax and Jack Starr.

A special train will bring Vanities to Amarillo, five baggage cars being needed to cart the scenery alone about the country.

The show was booked by Wilbur C. Hawk for the benefit of the Tri-State Fair. The company now is playing to wildly enthusiastic audiences in Kansas City.

This is the same edition of the Vanities that played Broadway all last season, and is being brought to Amarillo as a guaranteed attraction, according to Mr. Hawk.

"The Vanities are guaranteed to be just as represented—an elaborate revue with New York stars and produced here just as it was produced in New York," Mr. Hawk said.

The top price being charged in Kansas City is $4.40. Prices here will range from $1 to $3, plus tax. Ticket information and reservations may be had now by writing to Mr. Hawk, care of The News-Globe.

"In view of the packed houses and tremendous successes scored here last year by 'Crazy Quilt' and 'The Wonder Bar,' it behooves those who want choice seats to the Vanities to get their orders in early," Mr. Hawk said.

Citizens

are now employed as teachers. Further criticism is that W. T. serves only a small strip of West Texas, which is sparsely settled, with too many out-of-state students. The records show that only 6.6% of the students are from outside the state, and more than this number of Panhandle students leave the state because they can get even lower tuition than offered in Texas.

The records show that in the 26 Panhandle counties is found 4.1% of the total population of Texas; 3.9% of the scholastic population; 5.9% of the assessed values of the state; 5.6% of all taxes are paid; yet less than 3% of the money spent for higher education comes to this section.

Citizens are urged to write to their senators and representatives asking support of W. T., and urging that they oppose any movement which would reduce W. T. from a standard four-year college.

County and District Clerk, $800 per year.

IN PLAINVIEW TODAY

Frank R. Phillips, D. A. Shirley and W. A. Warren went to Plainview this morning to confer with ex-students and friends of W. T., and to attend a meeting of the Dairy Show directors.

Shakespearian Play to be Given Monday at the Auditorium

"The Merchant of Venice" played by the Shakespeare Players who are presented by James Henrickson and Grace Bruce, will be the first lyceum attraction of the winter quarter in Canyon.

The play will be given in the College auditorium next Monday night at eight o'clock, according to the announcement of the Lyceum committee of which Wallace R. Clark is chairman. This is a blanket tax attraction and tickets at the door will be 75 cents.

The Shakespeare Players are said to be an excellent company, and the "Merchant of Venice" is one of the best known and most attractive of Shakespeare's comedies. It is expected that a large number of townspeople as well as students will avail themselves of the opportunity to see it.

PLAN DAIRY SHOW

W. H. Upchurch is in Plainview today attending a meeting of the directors of the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show association. He is a member of this body. Plans will be made for the annual show to be held in the spring.

Girl Exhibits Rare Dolls

While the love for dolls is universal the world over, Gloria Widman, above, of Inglewood, Calif., has taken two rare specimens from her collection to show how different the dolls of various races can be. The grotesque affair at the left is a native doll made of raffia from the pagan island of Bali. The doll at right is garbed in a costume worn in Bethlehem in the early days of Christianity.
